THE SORE THROAT OF SPANISH INFLUENZA

One of the frequent complications of Spanish influenza is sore throat. It is important that the sore throat be given prompt attention and relief.

The throat is the gateway to the body. The air we breathe, the food we eat and the water we drink all pass through it. It is the great breeding ground for germs and this is especially true when it is sore or inflamed. If it is kept clean, disease germs have small chance to propagate and do their deadly work.

Authorities agree Spanish influenza is a germ disease and that preventive measures should be taken. They advise the use of an effective gargle to keep the throat clean and healthy. For this purpose, Tonaline, The National Sore Throat Remedy, is ideal. It is also used as a spray and taken pure.

The wonderful increase in the sale of Tonaline during the last few weeks shows that many thousands of families are making extra use of Tonaline during this epidemic to quickly relieve the often accompanying sore throat and as a preventive measure.

Don't wait until you have influenza and sore throat in the house but get your bottle of Tonaline from your druggist NOW for use as a preventive gargle and also to be ready to relieve sore throat upon its first appearance.

For more than 25 years the sale of Tonaline has steadily and rapidly increased. The favor shown it by American people gives it the right to the title, The National Sore Throat Remedy.

Manufacturer of Famous Medicine

Many people fear to take medicine because of the cost and shortness of the bottle. This is a mistake. The ideal way is to make into a syrup by adding a 2% bottle of Tonaline to a pint of water and then fill the bottle with concentrated sugar syrup, made by dissolving a half cup of sugar in a half pint of boiling water. It is sold by chemists that this makes a most effective home treatment for all cold troubles. The manufacturer guarantees it to please your back. Sold by all good druggists.

ITNEY SITUATION IS BEING PROBED

Waste in Man Power and Fuel in Non-Essential Operation Subject of Inquiry.

Investigation to determine whether man power and materials are being wasted in non-essential Itney operation in the United States is being made by the bureau of standards and the fuel administration. Some interesting light on this subject has been afforded the government by the war board of the American Electric Railway Association as the result of a questionnaire sent by the board to about 1,000 street railway companies throughout the country.

855 in Essential Service.

The board's report shows 855 Itneys performing essential service, that is, meeting the demands of territories not served by street railway lines. Most of the so-called essential Itneys operate on camps and cantonments. Camp Grant, for example, having its transportation needs met by 360 Itneys.

The fuel administration's interest in the matter is concerned with gasoline consumption according to the figures given it by the war board, Itneys that are performing non-essential service or covering territory which street railway lines are prepared to serve consume approximately 15,000,000 gallons of gasoline a year.

The bureau of standards is interested in the conservation of labor and materials, and for this reason has started an investigation to determine to what extent there is duplication of service in Itney operation.

Affected by Natural Causes.

Itneys have been dealt a hard blow by natural causes, the report to the government shows. Before the war there were something like 20,000 of them in operation.

W. V. Hill, assistant manager of the railway war board, who sent out the questionnaire for information as to the Itney situation, ascribes their decline to the increase in the cost of labor which has enabled the Itney driver to obtain a wage in excess of what he could earn in the Itney business. The increase of the draft, the increased cost of operation and various regulatory enactments by various cities in some sections of the country.

MR. HUGHES SAYS ALL ARE FOR WAR

Declares Republican Majority in Congress Would Not Retard President.

NEW YORK, October 30.—Charles E. Hughes addressed the Union League Club last night in regard to President Wilson's appeal for the election of a democratic Congress. He scoffed at the suggestion that the election of a republican majority in either or both houses of Congress would involve a reflection on the President and a repudiation of his leadership. Mr. Hughes said, in part:

Party Should Not Limit.

"It is said that the return of a republican majority to either house of Congress would be interpreted as a repudiation of the leadership of the President. I think that from a national standpoint the suggestion is most unfortunate. If the President before the election of Congress is the nation's will to be truly voiced if voters do not express their honest conviction."

"No! There is a better way. We are all for the war. We are unanimous in our support of the President's appeal to complete victory. Let us, as a nation, let us send our representatives to Congress, let there be fair and open discussion and free consultation and then we can trust the future. With the country almost equally divided between two parties, the freest expression and choice of representatives should be welcomed."

No Reason to Misunderstand.

"But it is said that a return of a republican majority will be misunderstood abroad. By whom? By the Germans? They know that the republican leaders are intent on complete victory. By the allies? They have no reason to doubt the sincerity of the republican leaders. By the neutral nations? They are safe in republican councils. No, we shall not be misunderstood. We shall support the President as the President, not as the President of a party, not as the President of half the nation, but as the President of the entire nation as he acts according to the genius of our institutions, and we shall save him from the lesser dignity and influence of mere party leadership."

MONEY ORDERS IN PALESTINE

Payments Are Now Possible in Any Place Occupied by Allies.

The postal administration of Great Britain is prepared to effect payment of money orders to civilians residing at any place in Palestine which is occupied by the allied armies, the Post Office Department announces. The service will not be available for remittance to troops in Palestine, but only to civilians.

Applications for intending remitters for money orders to Palestine must be declined, it is announced, owing to the fact that mail service to the country has been suspended because of the German occupation.

CAPT. ALFRED GLASCOCK VICTIM OF PNEUMONIA

Succumbs in France—Physician at St. Elizabeth Hospital Here for Fifteen Years.

CAPT. ALFRED GLASCOCK.

Word has just been received in this city by his sister, Mrs. O. G. Moore of 1011 H street, northwest, of the death in France, October 10, of her brother, Capt. Alfred Glascock, Medical Corps. Death was due to pneumonia. The word came in a letter from Maj. Certe, a fellow member of Base Hospital No. 86 and a fellow graduate of George Washington University.

As soon as war was declared Capt. Glascock, who was then senior assistant physician at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, this city, made several efforts to get into active service, but was retained at St. Elizabeth's on account of his experience in mental diseases. In the spring of this year he finally resigned to be free to join the Army. He was commissioned captain last May and went to Camp Hancock, Georgia, as special examiner in psychiatry. A little later he was selected as one of a staff of a base hospital in the interior of France and while there developed pneumonia.

A Native of Virginia.

Capt. Glascock was the son of Capt. Alfred Glascock of Fauquier county, Va. He was born in Leesburg, Va., in 1851. He grew up in Washington and was educated at the Episcopal High School near Alexandria, and at George Washington University, graduating in 1902 in the medical department of that institution.

Comrade Pays Him Tribute.

Following is an extract from Maj. Certe's letter to his sister, Mrs. Moore: "His illness was of only a few days' duration and he suffered very little and went to his death with a smile, as a gentleman should. I cannot but couple him with those lines of Kipling: 'Who had done his work and held his peace and had no fear to die.'"

"It was in the afternoon. The day had been a glorious one with just the hint of frost in the air. The tall Lombardy poplars are tinged with yellow and here and there a few leaves are mellowed by the first touch of autumn. As we marched to the crest of the hill where the lines, home of the little village of... I was rather more impressed with the sight of it all than by any sense of pain or grief. As the ambulance with the flag-draped casket came by them, soldiers stood at salute, even the French peasants took off their caps and French soldiers at some time saluted, while the little children, with their rosy cheeks, stopped their play and gazed with wondering eyes at a mystery quite beyond them as it is to us, and crossed themselves devoutly."

"Then came the final words of prayer, the firing salute and tape, and here another hero was laid to rest in the soil of France, one which so many have paid the great price."

Farm Loan Bonds at 4 1/2 Per Cent.

Farm loan bonds in the future will bear only 4 1/2 per cent interest, instead of 5 per cent, carried by the block of more than $50,000,000, offered last May, it was stated today. Since these bonds, to be issued soon, will be absorbed entirely by the Treasury, however, the reduction will have little practical effect on the market.

MUM SHOW CLOSED TO GENERAL PUBLIC

District Health Officer's Ruling Causes Last Minute Change of Plan.

The 1,300 magnificent Japanese chrysanthemums and the several thousand attractive pomspones loaded down for exhibition at the Department of Agriculture greenhouse, 14th and B streets, northeast, are not to be viewed by the public. The district health officer ruled today that the show could not be opened.

Supt. Byrnes, in charge of the greenhouses, planned last night to open the doors to the public today and has had the "mum" experts among his gardeners giving finishing touches to the show. After he received the final edict of Health Officer Fowler today he ordered the blooms cut and sent to the hospitals.

Closed First Time in Fifteen Years.

This is the first time in more than fifteen years that the public has not had a chance to see this Department of Agriculture display of "mums," and those who have been preparing for it are especially disappointed because there are so many newcomers to Washington who never saw the display of the choicest chrysanthemum blooms in this country.

Officials of the Department of Agriculture entertained personal friends at a private view yesterday. In compliance to the wife of Dr. W. A. Taylor, chief of the bureau of plant industry, one of the daintiest pomspones was named Mrs. Helen F. Taylor. This is a white flower, the tips of the petals tinged with pink, and with a golden yellow center. A large, white bloom, with gold reverse, was named Mrs. Karl T. Kellerman, wife of the assistant chief of the bureau.

Flowers Named for Persons.

Mrs. J. E. Jones, wife of the chief clerk, named a variegated pink pompon in honor of Mrs. Holbrook Blinn, wife of the actor, "Get Together," with Blanche Bates. The James E. Jones, Jr., also named a white and pink pompon, of the type of pompon, white with a pink cast as it matures.

One of the most unusual and beautiful of the yellow and red was named for Mrs. Harry Wardman, a white and pink pompon, which was named after Helen Wardman. A large single bloom of light-shaded pink has been named for Cecelia Hitchins.

COMMITTEE OF INQUIRY TO STUDY FARM LABOR

Effort to Overcome Shortage Is Made by Joint Action of Organizations.

Investigation of the shortage of farm labor, said to have reached serious proportions in many parts of the country, will be undertaken by a committee representing the larger farm organizations.

The personnel of the committee, as announced today, includes J. Weller Long of the American Society of Equity, Edward C. Lasswell of the American National Live Stock Association, William Bouck of the Washington State Grange, H. N. Owen, publisher of agricultural periodicals, Grant Stearns of the Farmers' National Headquarters, C. H. Hyde of the Oklahoma council of defense, J. N. Hagan, commissioner of agriculture and labor for North Dakota, J. M. Anderson of the Co-operative Wholesale Society of America and John A. Simpson of the Farmers' Union of Oklahoma.

SHIP BOARD CANCELS ORDER FOR TROOPS

Pacific Coast Yard Could Not Turn Them Out at Desired Time.

After-War Plan Modified.

Contracts for construction of a number of troopships at a cost of $60,000,000 by the Bethlehem Union Shipyard at Alameda, Cal., have been canceled by the shipping board.

Shipping board officials let it be known today that the action was taken three weeks ago.

It is said to have been found that construction of additional ships designed particularly to bring troops home from Europe after the war was unnecessary, because plans have been revised for converting large steel freighters into temporary troopships.

The board also desires to have its present program completed at the end of 1919, and the yards at Alameda are making no contracts at this time that cannot be completed by the end of 1919.

It was stated today that the board is making no contracts at this time that cannot be completed by the end of 1919. This, however, does not mean ending of ship construction then, for contracts will be awarded during 1919 for construction to run through 1920, and future contracts will be awarded for construction to run through 1921, and estimated needs for cargo carriers at all descriptions after the war.

CHICAGO IN BAD SHAPE

Five Members of Maroons in Hospital as Result of Rough Gridiron Battle.

CHICAGO, October 30.—Five members of the University of Chicago football team are in the hospital today as the result of a rough game yesterday with the Loyola Academy eleven. Chicago won, 6 to 0, with one touchdown.

The most seriously injured of the Chicago players was Alonzo Stagg, Jr., son of Coach A. A. Stagg, whose collarbone was broken.

The loss of players by the Maroons, it is said, leaves the team in bad shape for games scheduled for the early part of November, particularly the one which may yet be arranged with Purdue next Saturday. The Northwestern University team also has been seriously crippled through the loss of players, one having broken his collarbone in practice and five others having gone into military service.

Among those who have entered the service is George Geiss, star punter, who has been recommended for the Army Medical Training School at Camp Zachary Taylor, Ky.

The Illinois-Loyola football game scheduled for next Saturday at Urbana, Saturday has been transferred to Iowa City on account of the influenza epidemic in Illinois.

BOX ONLY IN TEXAS.

Champion Willard to Give Two Exhibitions for War Work Fund.

NEW YORK, October 30.—Jesse Willard will give two boxing exhibitions for the united war work campaign in Texas, according to a telegram from the champion received here last night by James Croffoth, manager of the boxing committee of the campaign. Willard added that his opponent would be selected by the Texas committee of the united war work campaign. Croffoth had hoped to have Willard meet either Jack Dempsey or Fred Fulton in this city.

"ATTA BOY" NOW READY FOR SHOWING AT POLI'S

Musical Melange for Benefit of Camp Meigs Welfare Fund to Run All Next Week.

"Atta Boy," a musical melange, with a cast of 150 to 200 men preparing for overseas service at Camp Meigs, is practically ready for presentation at Poli's Theater all next week.

Unique throughout because of the newness of ideas as furnished by Cohan, Ziegfeld, Dillingham, Albee and many other big producers, the vehicle promises to set a mark in that direction for Washington.

For the last seven weeks rehearsals have been held. The task of holding the company together because of the requisitioning of men for overseas service has been a gigantic one and many other big producers, the vehicle promises to set a mark in that direction for Washington.

Only the circumstances of war have made possible the staging of this unique production. The cast includes a number of old footlight favorites, and the aggregation of talent is said to surpass in quality any which has appeared in the Washington theater. The performances will go toward the Camp Meigs welfare fund and the men are determined to give patrons more than their money's worth in theatricals. The worthiness of the object will be heard by the theatergoers and the bill will be well worth the price.

The bill includes everything from show girls to kitchen police. A minstrel show will open the performance. Special song hits and musical numbers are on the program. Lieut. Ballard MacDonald is author of the lyrics and Nat Osborne composer of melodies. The bill will include "Strolling Round the Camp With Mary," "Maggie Boy" and "On a Little Farm in Normandy."

FOOT BALL SEASON TO BE LENGTHENED

Teams Are Listing Games for First and Second Weeks in December.

Football schedules among the colleges in all sections are likely to run into December. Many institutions already have listed contests for the first Saturday in that month and others have games for both the first and second weeks. If the season looked as if it would be extraordinarily short because of a late beginning, it seems that the colleges are going to make every possible effort to lengthen it by stretching the schedules beyond the usual ending time, which in previous years has been on Thanksgiving day.

Probably the most important, post-season game talked about so far is that between Georgia Tech and University of Pennsylvania. These teams are planning to get together at Philadelphia on the first Saturday in December. Penn has never shunned hard opponents and is anxious to get back at the Georgia Tech team, which was defeated at Atlanta a year ago. Besides that game, it looks very much as if the colleges will be playing games as long as the weather is such that outdoor athletics can be indulged in. At least that will be the case if efforts on the part of managers to arrange games bear fruit.

University of Pennsylvania has so many football teams on the string for games in November that it is having difficulty getting its schedule straightened out. It seems probable that the Cornell game will be played either on Thanksgiving day or the day following. Dartmouth is booked for November 9 as one of the other big contests.

Ingram, captain and star halfback of the Navy eleven, reported on the football field this week, after an illness which it was thought would keep him out of the line-up for the remainder of the year.

Here are some of the games that have been arranged for the benefit of the united war work campaign fund:

November 5—Baltimore vs. Pittsburgh, (P. I.) Naval, at New Haven.
November 16—Pittsburgh vs. New York, at New Haven.
November 23—Harvard vs. Princeton, at Princeton.
November 23—Georgia Tech vs. Pittsburgh, at Pittsburgh.
November 23—Oregon vs. California, at San Francisco.
November 23—Missouri vs. Kansas, at Kansas.

Maryland State has listed a football game for this week with the Virginia Military Institute at Lexington. The State eleven probably will leave here Friday night, which will place it in Lexington in plenty of time for the contest, though the weather will be very little time for the men to rest before the game. The game has been settled upon by both institutions with the exception of details about which there should not be much trouble.

Baltimore newspapers seem to be making quite a stir about a football game between the State eleven and Maryland State on Thanksgiving day, now that Hopkins is going to get back in the field with a team. Hopkins canceled his schedule early in September, but recently announced it would play. Now Baltimore newspapers want Hopkins and State to resume their annual struggle on Thanksgiving day, with St. John's figuring some time before that in a game with Hopkins.

Change in the time by turning the clock back is having its effect on foot ball teams. Class schedules are running until 4:30, and by the time foot ball squads get on the field it is so dark that they can hardly get much practice. Lack of practice is going to prevent the development of anything near as good as the games have normally been turned out by the colleges prior to this fall. Especially bright lights are being used to illuminate the fields at many institutions.

Umpire Klem Enlists in Army. YONKERS, N. Y., October 30.—William J. Klem of this city, for many years a National League umpire, announced last night that he had enlisted in the stator division of the Army quartermaster department. He is forty-one years old.

ETERNAL'S TITLE DISPUTED.

Many Horsemen Contend Billy Kelly Is King Despite Defeat Monday.

NEW YORK, October 30.—Billy Kelly was beaten by Eternal at Laurel Monday, but many horsemen still claim Billy Kelly the champion two-year-old of the year. Billy Kelly earned that title beyond all recall at Saratoga, when he did things that had not been done by juveniles since the day of Hamburg, carried 135 pounds to victory against formidable opposition and repeatedly showed bursts of speed that stamped him as one of the real great horses of turf history. Eternal did not come to the fore until he won the Hopeful. Then came Dunboyne's victory in the Futurity and the subsequent agitation for a match among the three leading two-year-olds.

Dunboyne was retired, leaving only Eternal in the discussion against Billy Kelly. Now Eternal has beaten Billy Kelly, and some are giving the title to the son of Sweep. They forget the fact that Dunboyne won the Futurity and had a decision in his favor after beating Omar Khayyam in their second match.

FOOT BALL BY SEARCHLIGHT.

Middies Get in Extra Practice With a Whited Ball.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., October 30.—A little planning has enabled the midshipmen to make use of the half hour at the end of the practice period, which, since the return to the old system of time, would be unavailable for practice. The squad has been moved to a field where it comes under the sweep of a powerful searchlight of the Reina Mercedes, the station ship. With the ball painted white no difficulty is had in continuing the practice.

In addition to Capt. Ingram, Butler, one of the stars of the backfield, who has been suffering with a lame knee, was in practice yesterday afternoon. Ewen, regular right end, has a lumbar, is better and will put on his uniform today. On the other hand, Butler, who was the star of the backfield Saturday, has hurt his foot and must rest a few days. Ingram may not be in condition to play against the Philadelphia marines Saturday.

"Bo" Olcott Is Out.

GREAT LAKES, Ill., October 30.—Lieut. Clarence McCreary, former captain of the Annapolis football team, has succeeded Herman P. Olcott as head foot ball coach of the Great Lakes naval training station foot ball team, it was announced last night.

Levinaky and Dempsey Want Him in Ring During Bout.

PHILADELPHIA, October 30.—Jimmy Croffoth, who is to have charge of boxing in the war fund sport drive week, has been asked to referee the Jack Dempsey-Battling Levinaky fight, which takes place before the Olympia A. A. here November 7. None of the local referees suited Levinaky, and as Dempsey was not partial to certain New York and Baltimore officials, Croffoth's name was suggested and instantly accepted by both fighters.

With Jimmy Unanimously Favored the Referee Immediately Sent a Wire to Croffoth asking him to officiate.
